Security Notice: All cases and investigations use duplicate archives of all evidence data in undeletable archives on mass duplicate servers and repositories located globally including archives in torrents and particulated file sets, deadman switches, self-replicating archives, and BCC copies to multiple interested parts in order to mitigate cover-ups, intimidation threats or denials of awareness. If you are reading this notice, please assume that most relevant law enforcement, watchdog and oversight groups have also been BCC'd that you have been informed of these facts. Each Task Force information recipient has multiple contact and relay methods to every other Task Force information recipient mentioned above

Tools in use include, but are not limited to:

Archiving Your Work: How to use the Internet Archive's Wayback Machine to preserve web pages and PDFs.

- Data Journalism Resources: A guide to resources on computer-assisted reporting, including data collection, analysis, visualization, mapping, and more. Spanish version here.
- Data Journalism Toolkit: Newsrooms don't need large budgets for analyzing data—they can easily access basic data tools that are free or inexpensive. Spanish version here.
- Defining Investigative Journalism: While definitions vary, there is broad agreement on what makes investigative reporting: systematic, in-depth, and original research and reporting, often involving the unearthing of secrets. Spanish version here.
- Extractives Industries: A road map to improve your coverage, including new tools that enable journalists and bloggers to obtain and verify information, and where to get ideas for future stories.
- Finding Expert Sources: Looking for sources? Finding experts in a particular field is a good place to start for many stories. GIJN took a look at various guides to expert sources. After cutting those that are outdated, too specialized, or tools of the PR industry, we found a handful worth consulting.
- Freedom of Information Laws: More than 100 countries now have freedom of information laws. Here are links to guides and groups, and a directory of FOI offices around the world.

- Freelancer Services: Here's GIJN's guide to freelance services around the world. We started looking for good platforms for finding assignments and getting paid decently, but we've expanded that to groups offering help on reporting, funding, insurance, safety, and more.
- GIJC15 & GIJC13 Tipsheets : See tipsheets from top journalism trainers on investigative techniques, data analysis, and more from the 2013 and 2015 Global Investigative Journalism Conference.
